

Grade 5

During the fifth-grade year, students increase their vocabulary and their ability to understand and explain words, including those that convey ideas and images. They use word origins to determine the meaning of unknown words or phrases, such as Herculean task from the myth of Hercules. They read a variety of grade-level-appropriate classic and contemporary literature and continue to expand their interest in nonfiction books, poetry, and plays. They begin to do literary criticism by evaluating what they read and locating evidence to support what they say. They write multiple-paragraph compositions for different purposes and a specific audience or person, adjusting their writing as appropriate. They use transitions to connect ideas when they write. They deliver oral responses to literature that demonstrate an understanding of ideas or images communicated by what they have read.

Standard 1

READING: Word Recognition, Fluency, and Vocabulary Development

Students use their knowledge of word parts and word relationships, as well as context (the meaning of the text around a word), to determine the meaning of specialized vocabulary and to understand the precise meaning of grade-level-appropriate words.

Decoding and Word Recognition

- 5.1.1 Read aloud grade-level-appropriate narrative text (stories) and expository text (information) fluently and accurately and with appropriate timing, changes in voice, and expression.

Vocabulary and Concept Development

- 5.1.2 Use word origins to determine the meaning of unknown words.
Example: After listening to a story of the myth of Hercules when it is read aloud, use the knowledge of the story to understand the phrase Herculean task.
- 5.1.3 Understand and explain frequently used synonyms (words with the same meaning), antonyms (words with opposite meanings), and homographs (words that are spelled the same but have different meanings).
- 5.1.4 Know less common roots (graph = writing, logos = the study of) and word parts (auto = self, bio = life) from Greek and Latin and use this knowledge to analyze the meaning of complex words (autograph, autobiography, biography, biology).
- 5.1.5 Understand and explain the figurative use of words in similes (comparisons that use like or as: The stars were like a million diamonds in the sky.) and metaphors (implied comparisons: The stars were brilliant diamonds in the night sky.).
- 5.1.6 Understand unknown words by using word, sentence, and paragraph clues to determine meaning.

Standard 2

READING: Comprehension and Analysis of Nonfiction and Informational Text

Students read and understand grade-level-appropriate material. The selections in the Indiana Reading List (www.doe.state.in.us/standards/readinglist.html) illustrate the quality and complexity of the materials to be read by students. At Grade 5, in addition to regular classroom reading, students read a variety of nonfiction, such as biographies, books in many different subject areas, magazines and periodicals, reference and technical materials, and online information.

Structural Features of Informational and Technical Materials

- 5.2.1 Use the features of informational texts, such as formats, graphics, diagrams, illustrations, charts, maps, and organization, to find information and support understanding.
Example: Locate specific information in a social studies textbook by using its organization, sections on different world regions, and textual features, such as headers, maps, and charts.
- 5.2.2 Analyze text that is organized in sequential or chronological order.
Example: Compare the organizational structure of such biographical texts as The Life and Death of Crazy Horse by Russell Freedman or Pride of Puerto Rico: The Life of Roberto Clemente by Paul Robert Walker, noting critical events in the subjects' lives.

Analysis of Grade-Level-Appropriate Nonfiction and Informational Text

- 5.2.3 Recognize main ideas presented in texts, identifying and assessing evidence that supports those ideas.
Example: Read a science text, such as Astronomy by Robert Kerrod, and select some of the experiments described in the book to pursue in class. Before beginning the selected experiments, outline the main ideas or concepts to be tested and identify additional supporting detail that explains those scientific concepts.
- 5.2.4 Draw inferences, conclusions, or generalizations about text and support them with textual evidence and prior knowledge.
Example: Use a guidebook, such as Discovering Fossils: How to Find and Identify Remains of the Prehistoric Past (Fossils & Dinosaurs) by Frank A. Garcia, to gain information and make predictions about the identification of fossils found in everyday surroundings.
- 5.2.6 Follow multiple-step instructions in a basic technical manual.

Expository (Informational) Critique

- 5.2.5 Distinguish among facts, supported inferences, evidence, and opinions in text.
Example: Identify facts and opinions in a newspaper editorial or editorial page writer's column.

Standard 3

READING: Comprehension and Analysis of Literary Text

Students read and respond to grade-level-appropriate historically or culturally significant works of literature, such as the selections in the Indiana Reading List (www.doe.state.in.us/standards/readinglist.html), which illustrate the quality and complexity of the materials to be read by students. At Grade 5, students read a wide variety of fiction, such as classic and contemporary literature, historical fiction, fantasy, science fiction, folklore, mythology, poetry, songs, plays, and other genres.

Structural Features of Literature

- 5.3.1 Identify and analyze the characteristics of poetry, drama, fiction, and nonfiction and explain the appropriateness of the literary forms chosen by an author for a specific purpose.
Example: Analyze an author's purpose for writing, whether it is to inform, teach, entertain, or elicit an emotional response, and tell how well that purpose is achieved by the type of writing the author has produced.

Analysis of Grade-Level-Appropriate Literary Text

- 5.3.2 Identify the main problem or conflict of the plot and explain how it is resolved.
Example: Read a story with a central conflict, such as The Pushcart War by Jean Merrill. Tell how the conflict between the peddlers and the truckers is solved and describe what issues are raised in the conflict.
- 5.3.3 Contrast the actions, motives, and appearances of characters in a work of fiction and discuss the importance of the contrasts to the plot or theme.
Example: Read a book, such as Mrs. Frisby and the Rats of NIMH by Robert C. O'Brien, in which different characters are motivated in opposing ways, by innocent good, like the character of Mrs. Frisby, or by selfishness, like the characters of the Rats. Discuss how the contrast between innocence and worldly experience is important to the plot of the book.
- 5.3.4 Understand that theme refers to the central idea or meaning of a selection and recognize themes, whether they are implied or stated directly.
Example: Describe the themes in a fictional story, such as A Wrinkle in Time by Madeleine L'Engle, in which the themes of courage and perseverance are explored as the children in the story go on a dangerous mission in search of their scientist father.
- 5.3.5 Describe the function and effect of common literary devices, such as imagery, metaphor, and symbolism.
- Symbolism: the use of an object to represent something else; for example, a dove might symbolize peace.
 - Imagery: the use of language to create vivid pictures in the reader's mind.
 - Metaphor: an implied comparison in which a word or phrase is used in place of another, such as He was drowning in money.
- 5.3.8 Identify the speaker or narrator in a selection and tell whether the speaker or narrator is a character involved in the story.

Literary Criticism

- 5.3.6 Evaluate the meaning of patterns and symbols that are found in myth and tradition by using literature from different eras and cultures.
Example: Discuss what various characters and objects symbolize in literature representing the Medieval era, such as King Arthur: Tales from the Round Table by Andrew Lang, or ancient Asian culture, such as Tales from Japan (Oxford Myths and Legends) by Helen and William McAlpine.
- 5.3.7 Evaluate the author's use of various techniques to influence readers' perspectives.
Example: Read and evaluate books such as Dear Mr. Henshaw by Beverly Cleary or The Great Fire by Jim Murphy to understand how authors use particular techniques, such as letter format or display of primary sources, to influence the reader.

Standard 5

WRITING: Applications (Different Types of Writing and Their Characteristics)

At Grade 5, students write narrative (story), expository (informational), persuasive, and descriptive texts. Student writing demonstrates a command of Standard English and the research, organizational, and drafting strategies outlined in Standard 4 — Writing Processes and Features. Writing demonstrates an awareness of the audience (intended reader) and purpose for writing.

In addition to producing the different writing forms introduced in earlier grades, such as letters, Grade 5 students use the writing strategies outlined in Standard 4 — Writing Processes and Features to:

- 5.5.1 Write narratives that:
 - establish a plot, point of view, setting, and conflict.
 - show, rather than tell, the events of the story.

Example: Write a story, modeling the style of the story after a type of writing recently read in class, such as a folktale, myth, mystery, or science fiction story. Include an interesting beginning that establishes the central conflict of the story and an ending that resolves the problem.

5.5.2 Write responses to literature that:

- demonstrate an understanding of a literary work.
- support statements with evidence from the text.
- develop interpretations that exhibit careful reading and understanding.

Example: Write an essay, telling how two authors are similar or different in terms of their writing styles, choices of topics, and the themes of their books. Support the opinion with specific examples from the authors' books. Write a personal reaction to books in which a character deals with a problem, such as The Best Bad Thing by Yoshiko Uchida or Shiloh by Phyllis Naylor. Use clear organization and careful word choices to show your reaction to the character and the problem.

5.5.4 Write persuasive letters or compositions that:

- state a clear position in support of a proposal.
- support a position with relevant evidence and effective emotional appeals.
- follow a simple organizational pattern, with the most appealing statements first and the least powerful ones last.
- address reader concerns.

Example: Interview several students in lower grades and take notes regarding changes they would like to see made to the school's playground. Compile these opinions to write a persuasive article for the school newspaper.

5.5.5 Use varied word choices to make writing interesting.

Example: Write stories, reports, and letters showing a variety of word choices: use inquired or requested instead of asked.

5.5.6 Write for different purposes (information, persuasion, description) and to a specific audience or person, adjusting tone and style as appropriate.

Example: Write a skit or an episode of a puppet show to present at your class talent show. Use funny words and phrases to make the audience laugh.

5.5.7 Write summaries that contain the main ideas of the reading selection and the most significant details.

Research Application

5.5.3 Write or deliver a research report that has been developed using a systematic research process (defines the topic, gathers information, determines credibility, reports findings) and that:

- uses information from a variety of sources (books, technology, multimedia) and documents sources (titles and authors).
- demonstrates that information that has been gathered has been summarized.
- organizes information by categorizing and sequencing.

Example: After completing library or Internet research, write a research report about the life cycle of a butterfly or about the different uses of a telescope, microscope, and camera.

Standard 6

WRITING: English Language Conventions

Students write using Standard English conventions appropriate to this grade level.

Sentence Structure
